13h30 FROM THE RECOGNITION OF LIGHT TO THE RECOGNITION OF LIFE

From light to light we pass, from revelation to revelation until we pass out of the realm of light into the realm of life which is, as yet to us, pure darkness... This developing series of revelations which, like all else in the world of human experience, unfolds before the eyes, first of all the world of forms, then the world of ideals, then the nature of the soul, of ideas and of divinity ... These reveal to man the hitherto unrealised fact of his non-separateness and of the relation of his individual will to the divine will.

Glamour, A World Problem, p.205

13h30 Introduction – in French

The ideal of tension, the ideal tension and the choice of attention – Jean Chaussy in French

From tension to tension the progressive integration of humanity can be seen in its capacity to think, and think about itself. Humanity strives to planetary ideals and becomes aware of its responsibility towards other kingdoms. Jean Chaussy – autodidact, studied etnopsychiatry and is now expert at the French Cour d'appel – explores how the individual will can contribute to the precipitation of these ideals.

Revelation and the Will aspect – in Russian

The interconnectedness of Revelation – as distinct from impression – the Will aspect and Mystery will be discussed. How can revelation be evoked and how can it help us understand our place on the ladder of evolution?

... and the light is ever merged in darkness – Anne Woodward in Dutch

One event may hide another. Is a revelation, when it occurs, really recognised as being complete, the full truth? Anne Woodward, a former singer and artist, explores the deeper meanings of light and darkness, of recognition and revelation.

13h30 SERVICE AS AN EXPRESSION OF BEAUTY

The production of a truer beauty in the world and, therefore, a closer approximation in the world of created forms to the inner emerging truth. It might be said that divinity is veiled and hidden in the multiplicity of forms with their infinite detail, and that in the simplicity of forms which eventually will be seen, we shall arrive at a newer beauty, a greater sense of truth and at the revelation of God's meaning and purpose in all that He has accomplished from age to age.

Esoteric Psychology II, p. 247, ed.

13h30 Introduction – in French

Responsibility and Group Interaction – Fabio Gatti in Italian

The recognition of responsibility, inherited, applied or shouldered, is the relation of the older to the younger, of the wise to the ignorant. Thereby the need of providing opportunity for the unfoldment of knowledge is developed... It is the sense of right relations, carried forward consciously and harmoniously developed. Fabio Gatti develops these ideas within a group context.

The Presence and Dissipation of Illusion – Mirna Derungs in Portuguese

...the student has three things to bear in mind: the existence of the Intuition, the fact of Illusion, and the overshadowing Presence. This Presence is revealed by the intuition through the medium of the Angel and, when revealed and recognised, brings illusion to an end.

Subjective Spiritual Reality and its Concretisation in Service – Priska Suppiger in German

That which is to be revealed lies all around us, and within us. It is the significance of all that is embodied in form, the meaning behind the appearance, the reality veiled by the symbol, the truth expressed in substance.

Group Meditation – in Italian

15h30 Service as an Expression of Beauty – Maria Antonia Massanet in Spanish

One thing that every aspirant to the mysteries should remember is that growth that is gradual, and relatively slow, is the method of every natural process and this soul unfoldment is, after all, but one of the great processes of nature... The injunction to grow as the flower grows, carries with it a tremendous occult truth. Maria Antonia Massanet – a co-worker of Geneva HQ – explores some of the deeper meanings as an introduction to the group discussions.
