He is M.D. of the American Academy School in Limassol, Cyprus – a school which is a multi-cultural community that educates children from kindergarten to university entrance. ## Afternoon session Everyone welcome

2.00 pm Welcome Headquarters Group

2.05 pm The Rosy Cross and the Golden Bird – Wendy Berg

“Having pervaded the worlds with a fraction of Myself, I remain.” Such is the theme of the soul’s endeavour, and such is the spirit which must underlie all creative work. In this thought lies the clue to the symbol of the Law of Sacrifice – a rosy cross with a bird flying over it. This is the loved cross... with the bird (symbol of the soul) flying free in time and space.

2.25 pm Sacrifice and the Will of the People: Reflections on the Iranian Uprising

Dr. Shideh Pouria shares the combined reflections of a Persian student group on the remarkable sacrifices of the protesters in Iran’s most recent uprising. No longer accepting of authoritarianism, paternalism and religious intolerance, the collective will is demonstrating in a rising up and a giving of all for freedom, brotherhood, justice and a future with dignity for all.

3.10 pm Break

3.25 pm Visualisation

3.30 pm The Right Concentration of Power: Pathways to Spiritual Governance – Swaan Barrett and Michael Brehme

What is the “Right Concentration of Power” that can fulfil the directive given in the Great Invocation: Let Light and Love and Power restore the Plan on Earth? Unmanaged globalization has resulted in too much power becoming concentrated in the realm of economics and finance. Does the spirit of democracy indicate a path out of this towards a future “global governance of the people, by the people, for the people – global governance with world government?

Swaan Barrett provides coaching and consultation for Visionary Leaders and Value-based Cultures in Organizations. Michael Brehme is the Executive Chair of Typhoo Tea Ltd. As the co-founder of Clipper Teas, he worked in close collaboration with Fairtrade during its infancy to further the cause of right relationships with poorer workers.
