The Work of our age is “rebuilding the shrine of human living, reconstructing the form of humanity's life, reconstituting the new civilisation upon the foundations of the old, reorganising the structures of world thought and world politics, plus the redistribution of the world's resources in conformity to divine purpose.” Alice Bailey

Every person of goodwill and of spiritual intention has a part to play in this creative work.

Holding in mind this year's important United Nations Declaration of the Sustainable Development Goals, the Paris Climate Conference, and the 2015 United Nations theme: International Year of Soils, Seminar participants will explore together what it means to live the spiritual life at this time and contribute to the work of rebuilding the shrine of human living.

Speakers, all of whom incorporate spiritual practice as part of their life, include:
