

TOWARDS ORDER AND FREEDOM

Kathy Newburn

The Leo energies present a real opportunity each year at this time because it is the opposite energy to that of the incoming Aquarian age. All the opposites must merge and blend—must take what is good from each, rise above the challenges and create a whole which is much greater than the sum of its parts. The etheric field of the planet at this time is flooded with Aquarian energies and therefore with that which is on the horizon of human consciousness. And this is also the time of year when many people have an opportunity to take some rest from outer labors and consequently the mind can become freer for a time and receptive to that which is hovering within the inner realms and consequently to catch glimpses of those fleeting deep impressions which can then be captured and become the seeds for possible contributions to the unfolding Plan.

One of the qualities of Leo is alignment—a quality symbolized by its triple rulership by the sun. To the ancient seers Leo was known as the sign of the “triple sun”—the physical sun, the heart of the sun and the central spiritual sun. This triple alignment of suns in Leo serves as a symbol of the long journey of the path wherein the individual moves from the integration of the personality which could be reflected in the physical sun, then, esoterically, it is reflected in the fusion of that personality with the overshadowing soul which is symbolized by the heart of the sun and finally after the long journey on the path eventually that blended soul and personality is able to project itself towards the light of the higher Mind make an alignment with the central spiritual sun. These three suns can be looked at in many other ways and cosmically we could look at the alignment between our spiritual Hierarchy, our sun and the great star Sirius which comes into play at this month when the sun is in Leo. This festival period therefore offers the opportunity to achieve a higher point of contact that might normally be possible.

The incoming Sirian energy is under the jurisdiction of the Christ. Sirius emanates a powerful mental vibration, an energy related to order in a sense we cannot begin to fathom. And it is through order that the quality of a true freedom emerges – a type of cosmic understanding of the term. But it's said our planet has a deep karmic connection with this star and the World Teacher Himself is Sirian and therefore these qualities of divine order and freedom are qualities that we, under the leadership of the World Teacher, are in process of working out in our miniscule way. And certainly the Aquarian age with its keynotes of liberty, equality and brotherhood will do much to move us a few steps further in that direction. Freedom must of course be coupled with a sense of responsibility and we can see these impulses gaining a foothold within the people of the world at this time. People are thinking and acting outside the confines of their own lives and thinking about the good of people at large and the planet as a whole.

But people see freedom through many different lenses – and it's interesting to ponder order – a potent quality of the seventh ray and what an approximation of “divine order” might look like. Surely it would be an outgrowth of a higher and more responsible consciousness emerging out of the people. Today we see a distorted manifestation of order attempting to impose itself through controls which are seeking to arrest human freedoms and which are igniting such a backlash among the body politic. Divine order and freedom are qualities that we don't even understand as they substand the very quality of Life itself but nonetheless they are destined to be keynotes of our planetary life. Always the lower manifestations of divine ideas work out first. Under the inpouring energies of the Leo-Aquarius axis the present attempts at controls will not be successful in the long run as they are contrary to the human spirit of planet Earth.

Let us play our part in providing a collective channel through our Triangles network to allow for an influx of this energy of freedom to circulate freely through the group and into all open hearts and minds everywhere.
