

“Language of the Heart”

Nazanin Zohdi

Q1- Nazanin, you’ve had an interesting spiritual life journey. Would you be willing to share a little of the story of your path with the group?

Answer: I’m sure every one of us has a story to tell when joining the triangles network and these stories show how we were connected a long time before we met each other in the physical world and there is a reason behind every single thing that happens to us. My story started with a dream when I was 17.

This dream changed my whole life story. In my dream, I received a golden key and a voice called my name and directly asked me to learn the “Language of Hearts” and mentioned that this key would open people's hearts. When the key was in my hand, the dream ambience changed to shiny geometrical shapes and numbers and I clearly saw triangles and the number three.

I never forgot my dream and it made me change my study plan in the university, so instead of studying in the medical school, I started studying English Literature, Linguistics and Translation. I chose English because all materials and sources were available in English at that time. Also, I was able to read many different books in English or translated into English. So I could understand other people’s thoughts and ideas in different countries and cultures to give me a clue to find out about the language of hearts! This is the reason why linguistics, etymology and translation became highlighted and important in my life.

Studying language is a strange and mysterious topic. It sends you to the roots of the human family. It reveals that once we were one family but at the moment, we don’t understand each other because we are separated and speak in different languages. Definitely, you’ve heard about the Tower of Babel, the myth that explains why the world's people speak in different languages. I thought to myself that the language of hearts is a language that makes people become unified, despite all their differences. This language should come from a center which is common in all human beings. But what is it?

If you are familiar with the language tree of the world, you know that Persian and English are totally different and are located far from each other in the language map of the world and have separate roots! Persian is from Indo-Iranian (Sanskrit-Persian) root and English is from Indo-European (Germanic) root. To better understand their differences it is enough to say that English writing is from left to right and Persian writing is from right to left! Totally opposite directions! So, translation became more meaningful to me and it became the middle point between these two different worlds. That was the first time that a triangle was shaped for me. One point is the Eastern people, cultures, thoughts and minds and the other point is the Western people, cultures, thoughts and minds and the third point is the translation which acts like a bridge. I was born in Iran and historically Iran was part of the Silk Road that connects the East to the West. So, I grew up with the meaning of the bridge between the Eastern and the Western parts of the world.

This triangle led me towards more triangles and the ancient science and philosophy of the triangle. The wisdom behind the triangle led me to study the occult sciences. Now that I know English, a new gateway to the Western world also has opened to me. Thus, I started studying about different ancient cultures, civilizations, beliefs and of course languages from the East to the West! I tried to find the similarities between people, the words and the symbols they use in their languages to express themselves. For example, the word “mother” starts with “M” in more than 30 languages around the world! Or in most languages, the alphabet starts with a Vowel like “A” and then with a Consonant like “B”. There is a message for those who seek to know!

Therefore, I thought that maybe I could find the language of hearts when I understand people and their roots, races and their stories about life and humanity.

I insisted on finding out about the language of hearts. But the harder I tried, the less I understood. I was stuck and confused with lots of knowledge and information, but I couldn't yet realize the secret of the language of hearts. Each piece of information contributed towards solving my puzzle, but I couldn't see the whole picture and I couldn't understand the message behind it, which made me very disappointed.

One day, I found an English book in an old bookstore. The book's cover and its color caught my eye. It was calling me! I opened the book and read the first pages quickly. I was thrilled with joy! My heart was beating like a drum! It was like the author was directly talking to me. At last, my prayers were answered. It said: “The above invocation or prayer does not belong to any person or group but to all Humanity.” Finally, I found the masterpiece of the language of hearts and it was nothing but the Great Invocation. I had never seen such a thing in any books or writings. The Great Invocation indicates three main centers of humanity: Light, Love and Power and the bridges and links between them and how humanity becomes One. These are the principles of the language of hearts. It is for all human beings, apart from their races, nationalities and beliefs. The book was the key to open my heart and mind to reality. The book's title was “From Intellect to Intuition” by Alice Bailey. The message for me was not to keep the knowledge for myself. There is nothing personal and I have to share my knowledge with other people. It showed me how to learn from Life and find my place in service to humanity. This was the key to open people's hearts and start communicating with the language of hearts. Finally, I found my place in this world; to translate the “Ageless Wisdom Teachings” for those who seek it, and to share it as much as possible.

Q2- Please tell us about the spiritual group work in Canada, particularly your focus on the work of Triangles.

Answer: When I moved to Canada, I had the chance to study in the Arcane School and learn more about the Tibetan's teachings. I got so excited when I found out about the Triangles Group. There is no group like Triangles which is for all and links people around the world. I joined the Triangles

Group and built three triangles with my friends. They don't speak English, that's why I decided to translate the Triangles materials, weekly webinars and bulletins into Persian for my friends and family in Iran. This made a strong connection with my Triangles friends and I could feel their presence during our triangle meditation. I was happy that I could understand them and know about their feelings, but I thought that it's because they were my friends and I have known them for many years.

In January 2020, a plane carrying a large group of Iranians and Canadians, tragically crashed. I knew some of the passengers and their families and friends in Canada. I arranged a gathering and talked about the Triangles network and the planetary links between goodwill people around the world. These people knew nothing about the Triangles group or ageless wisdom teachings. During the session, I asked them to build a triangle with their friends and family, then connect their own triangle to the Planetary triangle networks and ask for love and light to heal their pains.

I can't explain what happened after we read the Great Invocation in Persian. For the first time in my life, I really understood what the Language of Hearts meant! It opened their hearts, helped them to slightly relieve their pain, brought light into their minds and sealed the door where evil dwells. That was the time when our triangle group was formed between people in Iran, Canada and other parts of the world. Since then, we have had lots of experience and sharing together. I've seen lots of miracles in our group and I'm going to share one of them here with you. It's about reading the Great Invocation for an unborn child.

One of our Triangle members joined the group when she was expecting her second baby. She learned how to meditate and connect through the Triangles network. She said that it generated a strong link of love and comfort from her unborn child whenever she read the Great Invocation. Five days before the birth of her child, she contracted the Coronavirus, but continued to think positively and to link in with the Triangles network. It was an easy and peaceful birth. In that moment, in that surgery room, she was meditating and trying to connect to the Triangle network to receive the healing energy and get her mind off what is happening to her body and worrying about whether the baby was healthy or not. When the baby was born he didn't even cry! He was very calm and quiet and had a smile on his face. Now he is one-year old, perfectly normal and healthy. He is one out of 100 babies in Canada who are part of the research "Babies who were born from mothers with positive Coronavirus". The mother was well within three days of the birth, with no symptoms of the virus. Now, every time she reads the Great Invocation for her child, he becomes very alert and listens carefully, even trying to imitate the sounding of the OM!

In addition to the daily triangle mediation, our group members use the Great Invocation in time of need. Although many of them don't know each other, they have the same experience. They mention that they feel power and protection when reading the Great Invocation. They feel a strength to face their problems and find the best way to solve them. They all described a pure and comforting love from the triangles' members all around the world when they were in pain and suffering, especially during the Pandemic. And this love assured them that they would heal.

One of the last Triangles miracles was that one of our group members had a car accident and she was burnt by fire. She had severe injuries in her neck and chest and doctors couldn't be sure when she would be cured. She miraculously healed within a week after her Triangles meditation and sounding of the Great Invocation!

Q3- Would you like to share any insights with us about the work of Triangles?

Answer: As I mentioned, Triangles lead me to where I stand now and the most important lesson I've learnt, is how to transform my personal desire from saving myself to serving humanity, from intellect to intuition. Triangles has given me the clue as to how to use my personal knowledge for service to humanity. To me, the Triangle group is to radiate light, love and power from the channel of "Unus pro omnibus, omnes pro uno" or "One for All and All for One".
